FIRST PRIZE — $5.00

REPORTER
LOUISE MATARAZZO
87 Schuyler Drive
Highland Park, N.J., 08904

Dear Archie,

My father often takes me to Professional Baseball Games. The following poem expresses the feeling I had when a certain player—a favorite of mine—emerged from the ballpark in street clothes.

"'TIS HE I ADMIRE"

The first time I ever saw this fellow,
He wore brown tailored slacks and a knit shirt of yellow.
His shoes were of the finest leather a person could wear,
And he looked so handsome with his crew-cut hair.

The first time I saw him he wore a great big smile,
And signing autographs like it was going out of style.
And as he acknowledged the cheery greetings he had received,
He strolled to his car about ready to leave.

His car was the greatest I had ever seen,
It was a two-door Cadillac of a very light green.
And as he jumped into his car and drove out of sight,
I thought of how he had made my day just right.

I have seen him many times thereafter,
Sometimes he'd emerge quiet; sometimes with laughter.
But 'twas nothing like the first time and there will never be,
A time when he'll look more handsome or greater to me.

SECOND PRIZE — $3.00

REPORTER
YVONNE KEMENY

Dear Archie,

My trip to Sweden was very exciting. I went with my family for the whole summer in 1964.

On our way there we stopped in Iceland and then in Gottenburg, as they call it in English. The place we mainly stayed at was Bromma, a suburb in Stockholm. It was so amazing to see how beautiful and clean Scandinavia was.

We visited Drottningholm, the palace where the King and Queen of Sweden mostly spend their Christmas holidays. There are many busy streets in Sweden.

I hope this summer I will be able to go to Sweden and see how much it has changed since my last visit.

THIRD PRIZE — $2.00

REPORTER
PATRICIA CORRY
402 25th Street
Santa Monica, Calif.

Dear Archie,

The other night I was watching a show on television and some man came on to say what girls are. He said that girls are weak, dainty little things with pink bows and frilly dresses. They can't do hard work, because they are helpless and frail. I got so mad I almost kicked the T.V. set. I've mowed lawns and done hard garden work and everything. But when my girl-friend and I wanted to earn some money we couldn't get a cent. Everyone said, "But you're just girls. That work is too hard for GIRLS. You'd better let your brother do it." So please, everybody, the only girls that act weak and helpless are lazy sissies. Treat us normal girls like we're humans, not weak little things that can barely pick up a pencil.

FOURTH PRIZE — $1.00

REPORTER
CAROLYN HALL
925 Elm Drive
Rodeo, Calif.

A cat is a delightful, affectionate, well-mannered pet. They are easy to care for, easy to train and a pleasure to own.

In choosing them you must first decide if you would like a kitten or a cat. Kittens are lovable and playful. Cats are quiet and most likely already housebroken.

There are many kinds of cats. They include such breeds as these: Domestic Short Hair, Persian, Siamese, Burmese, Abyssinian, and the cat without a tail, the Manx.

I know quite a bit about cats and kittens because ever since I can remember we have owned one. I hope you love cats as much as I do.
